European Flexible Intermediate Bulk Container Association

Third EFIBCA Open Meeting on 11 May 2011

Bad Homburg, 20 January 2011 – The European Flexible Intermediate Bulk Container Association (EFIBCA) will hold its third international Open Meeting on 11 May 2011 at TRYP Düsseldorf Airport Hotel in Düsseldorf, Germany. This is one day before interpack, the biggest packaging fair worldwide, opens its doors.

Eight experts from across the FIBC industry will share their practical knowledge on a broad variety of business aspects. Remko Koster, Senior Consultant Polyolefins at CMAI, will throw light on the development of the polypropylene market, while certification expert Beate Heidorn from Intertek Food Services will reveal “dos and don’ts” with regard to food and hygiene. Further presentations include end-of-life solutions for FIBC, carbon footprints and practical approaches to corporate social responsibility. Last but not least the new quality certification scheme EFIBCA-Cert is going to be presented.

Dr Amir Samadijavan, President of EFIBCA: “Our Open Meeting is the perfect opportunity for information exchange and networking across the whole FIBC supply chain. That’s what makes it so beneficial for everyone dealing with FIBC.”

Participants will receive a free day ticket to the interpack (12 to 18 May). After the meeting, all participants are invited to drinks and snacks at the hotel bar (sponsored by Greif Flexibles). Registration is charged at EUR 240, including interpack day ticket, lunch, drinks and meeting dossier.

Founded in 1983, EFIBCA is the European trade association of manufacturers and distributors of FIBCs and their suppliers - leading the field on quality, safety, product development and service.
